

St. Louis Reserve
Report Optimistic
Highway Arrests

The July Review of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis (Eighth District, including Arkansas) is cautiously optimistic about business for the balance of the year. Says the monthly review: "A firm forecast of the volume of consumers' expenditures in 1949, based solely on the study released by the Federal Reserve System would be risky. "Nevertheless, this survey can be taken as a reliable indication that a substantial potential market for consumers' durables and housing still exists. At the same time these findings provide business with a strong incentive to adjust price schedules and product quality and design to levels where this demand can be met. "The report continues with the observation that 'physical volume of sales to consumers has held up pretty well, and dollar sales are not sharply below last year's volume. "The foregoing isn't mere wishful thinking, nor government propaganda. The fact is, on the basis of what we know we are in for a postwar adjustment of production, prices and sales; but the outlook is that the people still have a lot of money, and personal and corporate indebtedness is a record low figure. "The nation can pay for what it is willing to buy. Pending it to buy may be a little harder for the moment; but eventually there will be a 'meeting of minds' — and the upward march of business will be resumed for the postwar period. "The June report of the Arkansas State Police arrived in the week-end mail, and it shows: "Spurring was the No. 1 cause of highway arrests last month, with a total of 285. "No. 2 cause of arrests was driving while intoxicated, with a total of 151. "No. 3 cause of arrests was 'drunk on highway' — apparently either a motorized driver or a pedestrian — with a total of 122. "No. 4 was 'improper lights' totaling 113. "The state police are putting first things first, for in that branch of the major charges lie probably the major causes of highway accidents.

Fighting Again
Flames in Chinese Area
By The Associated Press
Fighting flamed anew in China today after a two-month lull in the civil war. Official dispatches reported several Nationalist set-backs. "The engagements were in progress in central China, Changsha, Hunan province capital and a Nationalist stronghold, a pro-recently an objective of Chinese Communist troops. "Four Red divisions were reported to have captured Ichang, Yangtze river port 600 air miles west of Changsha. A big battle also was going on in the Kwangtung area where Canton is situated. "Chinese press reports in Peking Hong Kong said the new Communist drive had caused fresh panic among Nationalist officials in Canton. "The defense ministry, these accounts said, has authorized equipment out of the provisional capital. "The attention remained centered on the weekend on the struggle between the Communist party and the Catholic church. "Czechoslovakia's Catholic priests spurned orders from the Communist government to desert Archbishop Josef Beran and the Vatican in the church-state war there. "At Sunday morning masses throughout the country they had a defiant resolution declaring their continuing loyalty to church authorities and willingness to 'bear with them whatever consequences they may face.' "The priests accused the Czechoslovak government of violating constitutional guarantees of religious freedom, condemned the government-sponsored Catholic action as schismatic, and asserted that clerics' signatures endorsing it had been obtained by fraud. "At morning masses throughout the country yesterday, they read a defiant resolution declaring their continuing loyalty to church authorities and willingness to 'bear with them whatever consequences they may face.' "They declared they were speaking from their own consciences and 'our responsibility before our nation.' "Churchmen said the resolution was read in most Prague Catholic churches including St. Vitus', Archbishop Beran's cathedral. "Cathedral officials said the proclamation was read there at the 6 a. m. mass although scheduled services later in the day were cancelled without explanation and churchgoers turned away.

Steel Hearing to Start on July 28
Washington, July 18 —(AP)—The fact-finding board in the steel labor dispute organized today and announced it would open public hearings July 28 in New York. "The organization meeting was held at the White House. "Chairman Carroll Daugherty said that his decision to delay hearings until July 28 would give both sides ample time to prepare their evidence for the board's consideration. "The chairman said that this morning's discussion had to do with organization of the committee and other matters of business. "The board broke up its meeting after about 45 minutes. "As it did so, the White House made public a letter from Samuel I. Rosenman, one of its members, and a former special counsel to President Truman. "Rosenman wanted it to be made public as a record that his New York City law firm is counsel to the Rotary Electric Steel company of Detroit. One of his law partners is a director of the company which has a contract with a local of the United Steel Workers. "Rosenman said he had brought this to the attention of Cyrus Ching, federal mediator and conciliation director, when he was asked to serve on the board. "Mr. Ching stated that, in his opinion, those facts did not in any way constitute a disqualification. "Rosenman's letter to the board said, "I nevertheless requested him to bring them to your attention before you made the appointment, and he stated that he would. "I am informed that these facts have been brought to your attention, and that you still desire that I shall be glad to render whatever service I can in this very important industrial controversy."

Rochester, N. Y., July 18 —(AP)—William Draper, 29-year-old father of three boys, was held today as a man who raped Mrs. Jennie O'Keefe, 74, and beat her to death in a dark field. "Mrs. O'Keefe, the mother of a Rochester policeman, was killed in a suburban Greece Saturday night as she started a two-week vacation from her job as a department store seamstress. "A mysterious telephone call from a woman yesterday led police to the battered body hidden behind bushes about four miles from the slaying scene. Her clothing was torn. "Draper was arrested last night as he started to drive away from his mother's home at Brockport with his wife and three children. "Assistant district attorney Clarence Henry said Draper denied the killing until he viewed Mrs. O'Keefe's body, then broke down and confessed. "Draper was charged with first degree murder.

Robinson Says Robeson Sounds Silly in Public

Washington, July 18 —(AP)—Jackie Robinson said today that if Singer Paul Robeson "wants to sound silly" in public, "that's his business." "The Brooklyn Dodgers' slender second baseman, first Negro to break into the major leagues, told the house un-American activities committee that Negro Americans would fight for this country "against Russia or any other enemy. "It was the last witness called by the committee to refute a recent statement by Robeson, once a famous athlete himself, that Negroes in the United States would not fight in a war against Russia. "The committee's small hearing room was packed when Robinson and his attractive wife arrived, and a loud "amen" came from somewhere in the crowd when he finished reading a long prepared statement. "The baseball star said he never has had time to become an expert on anything "except base stealing or something like that," but that he appeared out of a sense of responsibility. He said there has been "a lot of misunderstanding" about Communist influence among Negroes "and it's bound to hurt my people's cause unless it's cleared up."

New Home Is Sought for Young Slayer
San Francisco, July 18 —(UP)—Seven-year-old Teddy Moreno, who "killed" his friend, the corner grocer, with a .32 caliber pistol, waited today for someone to find him a new home. "Teddy played happily in the nursery at the juvenile home, unaware of the juss he raised by killing Fred Throckmorton, 67, Friday night. "The groceryman used to give me candy and cookies," said Teddy. "He was a nice guy. It was hard to pull the trigger. And then it went bang — like a firecracker. "He fell down. I deeded him," Superior Judge Milton D. Sapiro, who presides over the juvenile court, said Teddy won't be punished for killing Throckmorton with the grocer's .32 caliber pistol. "You don't punish children that age," Sapiro said. "He added Teddy was the oldest of six children and lived with his father, John Moreno, a truck driver, and Moreno's second wife, Consuelo. Sapiro said the family situation was "disturbed."

Everyone
Urged to Take
TB Test
Chas. Reynerson, chairman of the Hempstead County Tuberculosis Association, says that it is the hope of the dozens of volunteer workers for the city-wide TB clinic that it will be as nearly successful as possible. "From a study of the survey sheets he thinks a word of explanation as to why the clinic is being held may be necessary. "Some of those interviewed have said they do not need an x-ray as they do not have TB. How do you know? Others say they do not need charity but can pay for an x-ray. This clinic is not charity. It has been paid for by our taxes on the Christmas seals which we buy each year. If you have said that you do not want an x-ray, you are urged to reconsider. It is a community service you perform as you may be aiding not only yourself but others with whom you come in close contact. "These are the ones who are welcome at the clinic, and are urged to come: "1. Working men and women. "2. Men and women of 45 years and over. "3. Boys and girls in their teens and early twenties. "4. Young women in industry, mothers and teachers. "5. Anyone who has lived or worked with a person who has active TB. "This clinic has the approval of the ministerial alliance, the various civic clubs, the veterans' organizations, the County Medical Society, and many other groups.

Scout Posts
Oscar P. Cantwell, scout executive for the Caddo Area Council, and J. Arvil Hickman, field executive for the Caddo Area Council, announced their resignations Saturday to the president of the council, L. C. Barry, effective Aug. 15 and Sept. 1, respectively. During the two years and three months Cantwell has been the head of the Caddo Area Council, there has been a decided increase of Council consciousness due to the development of a representative executive board, which has met monthly. "The finances of the council have been put on a firm basis with enough money in the treasury to complete the fiscal year. Membership has reached an all time high of 3,120 in 114 units. Summer camp has increased from 18 per cent in the boys with long term camp experiences to approximately 40 per cent for the 1949 season. "In an interview Saturday morning Cantwell said: "I am sure that with the foundation laid that my successor will be able to build the Caddo Area Council to its rightful position as one of the best Councils in the nation."

to Reduce Airlift
Berlin, July 18 —(UP)—British sources said today that the Anglo-American airlift may be reduced two-thirds starting Sept. 1 if the British and American governments approve plans now under consideration. "The British cabinet will consider the proposal at its meeting today and a similar plan is under consideration by American officials, informed British officials said. "Plans for the reduction were drawn up by officials in Berlin and forwarded to London and Washington, it was understood. "Authoritative American quarters refused to confirm or deny the British reports. "It was reported that the plan, if approved, would be put into effect gradually in three stages. Reliable sources said four Royal Air Force squadrons would leave Germany in the first stage of the operation. "Several airlift bases in the Western zones probably will be closed as operations are shut down and planes withdrawn the British report said. "A skeleton airlift will remain in operation. If the Russians reimpose the blockade, this force could run an emergency service to Berlin until the main body of the Allied air fleet could be recalled to Germany.

"Carroll Tyler, atomic energy commission chief at Los Alamos, said in a statement that the "AEC administration would like very much to know where Snelling is. "Snelling's wife, Sally, told investigators that she received a letter from him, postmarked in Albuquerque at noon Thursday. The contents of the letter were not divulged. "This has happened before," Mrs. Snelling said. "But never for an extended period. "Tyler said Snelling was on Wednesday asked for his annual leave. He apparently intended to take a vacation trip with his wife. However, she reported on Friday that she had not heard from him for two days. "He also failed to appear to conduct newsmen on a trip to the site of the first atomic bomb explosion near Alamogordo on Saturday, the fourth anniversary of the bomb blast. ## New 'White Hope' Melon to Get Taste Test From Ten Little Rock Civic Clubs

This section's newest watermelon, the "White Hope", a will resistant variety developed by the University of Arkansas Experiment Station near here, will be tested to 10 Little Rock civic clubs this week. The organizations will serve as guinea pigs for a taste test. "V. M. Watts, head of the department of horticulture and forestry of the University's college of Agriculture, and Cecil Bluff, assistant in charge of the local station, will assist in the experiment. "Mr. Watts said that experimental work on the new fruit has not been concluded and that the university has not yet released its findings officially. "The melon, called the 'White Hope', is will-resistant and ripens one to two weeks ahead of the well-known Tom Watson. Growers have been warned not to permit the fruit to become over-ripe before cutting since the customary thump method of determining ripeness doesn't work. The White Hope has a much higher sugar content than the Tom Watson, and the tendril, or curl, may be just beginning to turn brown when the melon actually is ripe enough to eat. "The new melon was originated in an effort to give the housewife and other consumers a smaller melon than the enormous fruits for which Hope is widely known. The new melon is intended to be easy to handle and refrigerate. "Average weight is 25 to 35 pounds, in comparison to the 35 and 45 pounds of Tom Watson. The flesh is highly colored and very sweet, and every market to which it has been sent has called for repeat orders. The rind, though very thin, is especially tough. "Special tests of shipping quality are being conducted this year, and the university has asked farmers to plant it on land previously subject to wilt.

Wage Demand
Dominates
Labor Scene
By The Associated Press
Requests from a fourth round wage increase, dominated the nation's labor picture today. A three-man board wrestled with steel workers demands for pension, insurance and wage increases. "What effect the board's deliberations would have, broadly, remained speculative, but it was expected to be important in all segments of labor-management relations. "This was the labor situation: "Steel-which production humming again under a new contract—three members of the presidential fact-finding board conferred in Washington with John R. Steelman, presidential assistant. The principal item for decision was when to start hearings. "Neither the union nor the companies, however, are bound to accept to board rulings. "Transportation—New York City workers threatened extension of the five-day old bus strike to the Third Avenue bus system. But a walkout on 30 lines with 1,125,000 daily riders continued. "The strike on the Third Avenue system was averted when three trustees of bankruptcy and Michael J. Quill, president of the CIO transport workers union agreed to further talks next Monday. "Issues include a demand for 21 cents an hour, a 15 percent wage increase, and a 15 percent payment of $1,100,000 in back wages the TWU claims is due. "Chocolate—Government summoned union and management officials to a Washington conference in an attempt to head off a strike of 4,400 workers at the Hershey chocolate plant, Hershey, Pa. The issue posed by the AFL bakery and confectionery union is that of the union shop. "Gloves—Tanneries in Gloversville, N. Y., closed because of a CIO fur and leather workers union strike against one. The union term the strike a lockout, and is asking a 25 cent boost on an hourly rate of $1.52.

Service Unity Measures Sent to Congress

Washington, July 18 —(AP)—President Truman today sent to Congress a reorganization plan designed to tighten unification of the armed forces and strengthen the hand of Secretary of Defense John C. Danaher. "He said he was submitting the plan in order to "take action by one means or another to obtain prompt unification of the services. "Secondly, he said, he wanted to provide "a sure means whereby all members of Congress will be able to vote" on improving the defense organization. "In the event that adequate legislation is not developed" in Congress. "By sending up the plan, the President assured himself of two chances of getting the changes he wanted. He first asked for legislation making the changes. His reorganization plan will go into effect in 60 days if, meantime, neither the senate nor house disapproves it. "The senate has passed legislation along the lines the President asked. The house armed services committee sent to the house floor a measure asking only for tightened military budget and accounting practices. "The budget-counting bill was up before the house today. "In a message accompanying his reorganization plan, the President said the house bill would give specific functions of financial management to a "subordinate" official rather than to the secretary of defense.

McMath Says
Political Bid is False
Little Rock, July 18 —(UP)—Gov. Sid McMath today labeled as "absurd" a published report that he was seeking a Democratic vice presidential bid in 1952. "Commenting on a story in a Little Rock newspaper, McMath repeated that he has no national political ambitions and is interested only in being re-elected governor next summer. "I want to serve out my two terms as governor of Arkansas and then go back to my private law practice," the governor said. "Earlier he had flatly announced that he would not oppose U. S. Senator J. William Fulbright next year and had declined comment on a report that he would seek the senate post now held by John L. McClellan. McClellan's term expires in 1950, two years after Governor McMath's second term would terminate. "The capital city newspaper listed the senatorial race and the vice presidential bid along with acceptance of a cabinet post among future possibilities for the youthful elected governor. "McMath did not deny today that he might participate in the national campaign of 1952—perhaps as a speaker. "Naturally I am interested in doing all I can to help the Democratic party," he said. "I want to do my part as a party member. It is part of my duty. "The governor denied that he has made an unusual number of out-of-state speeches. Pointing to addresses at the national government conference, the President's highway safety meeting and the interstate oil compact, McMath said "if you call that an unusual number of out-of-state speeches, and an indication that I'm making a bid for the vice presidential nominee, then you've got 48 potential candidates."

Los Angeles, July 18 —(UP)—A perplexed police clerk filed under "rapes" today a complaint by handsome Edward Miller that two young women, one a blonde, the other a redhead, robbed him of $1, his pants and his honor. "Miller, 22 and married, said one of the women forced him at gunpoint to have amorous relations with the other. "She was red haired," he said. "The other was blonde. They were between 22 and 30. "He did not specify which one held the gun. "The incident occurred yesterday while Miller was on a weiner roast at Paos Verdes with some church friends. "He said he went to a parking area a change from his swimming trunks and was met by the women bandits. They forced him to accompany them to a sheltered area where the "rape" occurred, he said. "They also took his pants, which contained $1 in change, he said. "Police took him to a receiving hospital for an examination. "Mrs. Miller said she was "too upset" to discuss the incident. "It was very unfortunate," she said. "Miller dismissed the incident with a shrug of his shoulders.

Army Probe Still Underway, 3rd General May Go

Washington, July 18 —(AP)—An investigation of army contract handling was still underway today, it has led thus far to the suspension of two major generals and a congressman's demand that President Truman send his military aide to the sidelines. "The inspector general's office has ordered from Secretary of Defense John C. Danaher a separate investigating committee produced evidence which Gray said indicated they exhibited "a lack of judgment and sense of propriety." "On the heels of this development, Rep. Shaffer (R-Mich.) demanded that the President suspend Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, White House aide. "A member of the house armed services committee, Shaffer said, in a statement that Vaughan was "implicated in the same case" with Fieldman and Waite. He gave no details but said the aide's conduct "has been, to put it mildly in the poorest taste." "None of the generals has commented on the developments. "Their names were mentioned in a recent newspaper story telling of a probe into the handling of their influence to obtain government contracts for fees of five percent. "The report, published in the New York Herald Tribune, prompted an inquiry by a senate expenditures subcommittee headed by Senator Hoyer (D-N.C.). "It was Hoyer who first disclosed the suspicious order against Fieldman and Waite. He said the committee would hold public hearings in about two weeks, when both of them will have an opportunity to appear. "Gray said the senate group findings indicated that Fieldman, who has been in charge of buying food for all armed services and furniture, clothing and other equipment for the army, "furnished to a contractor representative, procurement information under circumstances which appear irregular."

Operating in Red to Be Big
GOP Issue
By JACK BELL
Washington, July 18 —(AP)—Republicans intend to bear down on President Truman's approval of operating the government in the red, Senator Brewster (R-Mo.) said today. "Brewster, who heads the Republican senatorial campaign committee, viewed it as possibly a major issue in 1950 elections. "The boters aren't going to be allowed to forget, he told a reporter, that Mr. Truman spoke out against cutting spending and in support of a program to pay out more than it takes in. "Mr. Truman said in his economic report last week that "we cannot expect a budget surplus in a declining national economy." He also said a big job in government programs would hold back recovery. "The administration has nothing but the old pump priming answer to any recession in business," was Brewster's sum-up. "The country tried that in the 30s and after $40,000,000,000 had been spent there still were 8,000,000 unemployed. "The Republicans are going to fight to cut expenses and keep the budget balanced. We think a majority of the voters believe that is the sensible Republican way to govern the country longer than any other party. It has the experience. "Conceding that there is a "mild decline in our economy," the Republican party, he said, "governed the country longer than any other party. It has the experience. "Well, maybe the depression is due to be a good issue for the Republican party," he said. "It governed the country longer than any other party. It has the experience."

"Attorney General Sir Haverslaw told the jury that Haigh was killing his victim and putting her in the tub of acid, Haigh denied on "tea and poached eggs."

The Story: Mrs. Malone, a widow, is the cook for a strange, wealthy, arrogant woman who is fleeing in a gigantic trailer to a mysterious destination. With her is the Marchese Dellacasa, who speaks with an accent. The other servants include Victor, a Filipino houseboy who graduated from Columbia, and Rudy, the uniformed chauffeur who may once have been a movie actor. Rudy and Victor tell Mrs. Malone that Mrs. Everson, after the death of her wealthy husband, heard a lot of talk about the Atom Bomb and eventually became convinced that an atom war was impending. She is, in fact, running away from the Bomb. Mrs. Malone says that Mrs. Everson is crazy, but Rudy says the woman talked to the big scientists, entertained them and is convinced that the whole country soon will be blasted. "If there's any surviving done, Mrs. Everson will do it," he adds. "How?" asks Mrs. Malone.

A look of what might have been embarrassment crossed Rudy's face, and he shifted uneasily as he answered Mrs. Malone. "Well, she claims to know a safety zone, a spot protected somehow, from the effects of radiation. Great guns! Don't ask me to explain it. I'm no Einstein!" "She gave me a lot of gabble about the hydrogen chain. But all I know is that about six months ago she got what she thought was the real dope, and then made her plans. First of all, she bought and equipped this outfit. I'd hate to think what it cost. Then she sold all of her property. Nobody, not even her lawyers, knew why. A rich woman's whim, they thought. "Then a month ago, she put it up to me and Victor. It was like Noah with the animals: join up, or else."

"When it's over," she told us, "only a handful of human beings will be alive. I intend to be one of them." Mrs. Malone sat rigid and erect, her eyes fixed on Rudy's face. The sudden silence was somehow terrifying. . . a tangible pressure against the eardrums. She struggled against it, and against the rising tide of panic within her. She must be sensible. "If the scientists really know it's going to happen," she rea-

New Jets Too Fast to See Reds Claim

Moscow, July 18—(UP)—Foreign observers said today that new types of Russian jet fighters displayed in the Soviet air show swept across their field of vision at such high speeds they couldn't tell what they looked like. Western military attaches who viewed the annual Soviet air show yesterday said they could not describe the appearance or character of the new jets because of their high speed. The planes flashed across Tushino airfield at an altitude of less than 1,000 feet. They came into view and disappeared beyond the horizon before the announcer managed to finish his statement that they were there.

A number of the new types were shown in the annual display of Soviet air power as well as improved models of three jet fighters displayed in previous shows. The jets appeared in such large numbers that foreign air observers said Russia now apparently has them in mass production. The air show was under the direction of Lt. Gen. Vassily Stalin, commandant of air forces in the Moscow military area and son of Premier Josef Stalin.

Premier Stalin, tanned by the sun, watched the exhibition from a special box in company with other members of the politburo. The exhibition opened with a flight of fighters carrying a giant portrait of Stalin. This was followed by another formation of planes spelling out "glory to Stalin." A feature of the annual show was a mock air battle in which two "enemy" bombers and two fighters were shot down. This enabled nine Soviet tupolev four-engine bombers, protected by four Mikoyan jet fighters, to break through to their target.

WHERE DOES NATURAL GAS COME FROM?

Where does natural gas come from? That seems a simple question. Out of the ground, anyone will reply. But to find the exact answer millions of dollars are spent each year.

One of the fields where Texas Eastern now buys natural gas for the Big Inch System is a good example of the expensive, unrelenting search for the answer to this question.

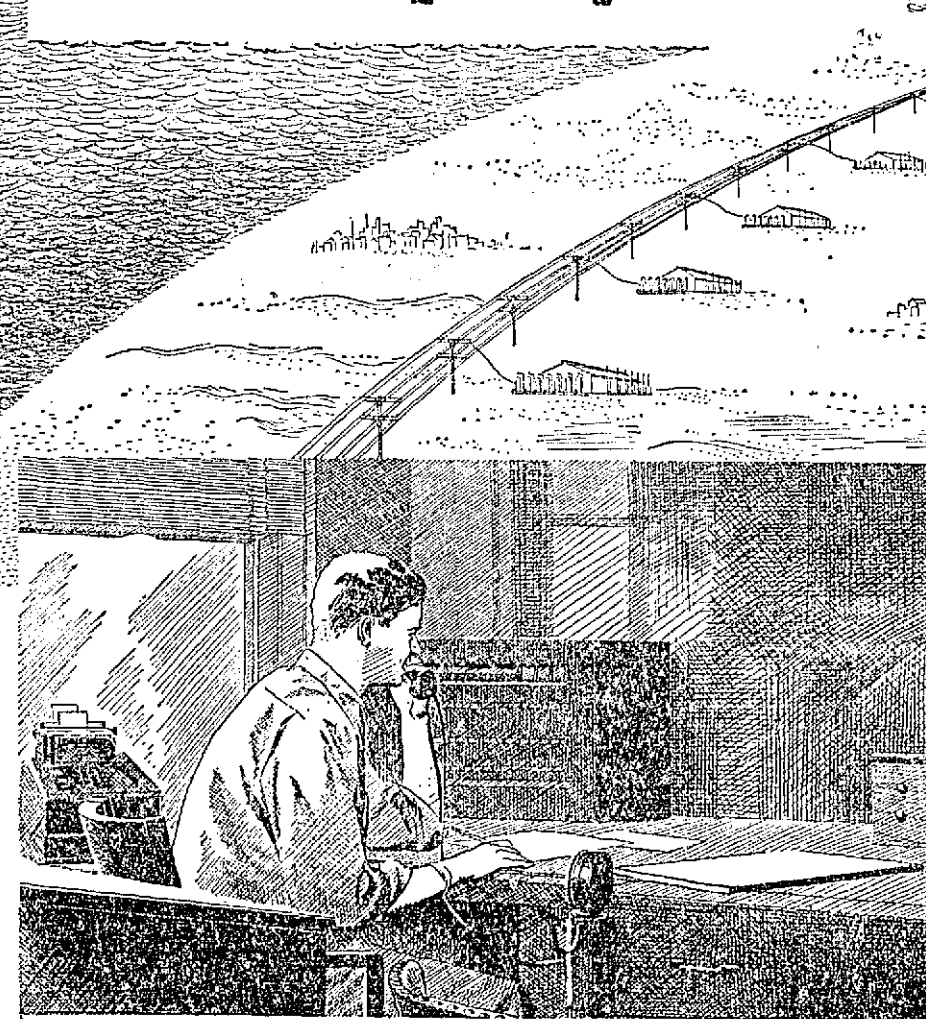

Several years ago, geologists and exploration crews studied the area for months looking for oil or gas. They found evidence of "favorable" rock formations. But even with the help of modern science, there was only one way to prove the experts' findings, and that was by drilling an exploratory or "wildcat" well.

All the costs of geological surveys and leasing large tracts of land were only the "ante" for the larger risks involved in drilling. A big 150-foot rotary drilling rig was brought in, and thousands of feet of drill pipe and steel casing to line the hole were shipped to the site. Special chemical muds for lubricating the drilling bits were mixed in thousands of reservoirs. Then drilling commenced.

Night and day for two months the drilling crew kept working. Once, when the hole was more than a mile deep, the pipe string broke, and the crew had to "fish" for the drilling tools. At the end of three months core samples brought to the surface showed no oil in commercial quantities, but still the operators did not give up. They tried loosening the rock formation by injecting acid under pressure. Then they finished up by igniting a charge of nitro-glycerine in the well. These last efforts bore fruit. With a roar of flowing gas the well was "brought in" as a new natural gas producer.

Today Texas Eastern's pipe lines provide this new field with an advantageous outlet for its natural gas. The Big Inch System also serves other producers who are spending thousands of dollars daily to learn the right answer to the question: Where does natural gas come from?

No time for gossip on this party line

HERE IS THE NERVE CENTER OF THE INCH LINES

Every hour the wires are cleared while one man in the room above talks with division dispatchers and station operators from Texas to New Jersey. This man is one of Texas Eastern's general office dispatchers who work round-the-clock shifts.

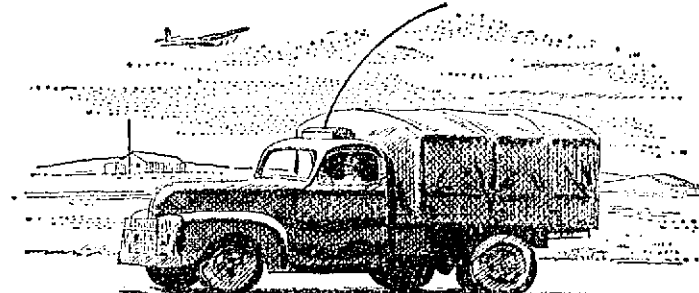

From the rapid-fire reports they receive, the "pulse-beat" of the system is recorded on special charts which tell the whole story at a glance. Operation of the entire Big Inch System is controlled from this efficient "nerve center."

EVERY HOUR OF THE YEAR...
EVERY TEXAS EASTERN STATION
REPORTS HOME ON A 2,000-MILE PRIVATE CIRCUIT

The telephone network of the Big Inch System is one of the busiest "party lines" in the world. Over its wires, pipe line men hundreds of miles apart are brought as close together as if they were in the same room. Texas Eastern pipeline men in every county depend on this 2,000-mile communications system for the close teamwork necessary to move natural gas across half a continent.

MOBILE RADIO PROTECTS THE PIPE LINES

The most modern two-way FM radios provide Texas Eastern's field trucks and cars with dependable communications beyond the reach of wires. This radio net is invaluable to maintenance and repair crews. It also links the pipeline staff with airplanes that patrol the lines. And—if telephone wires fail these mobile radios can handle the all-important job of communications on the Big Inch System.

DOROTHY DIX

Marriage To Older Women

Dear Dorothy Dix: A young man in my office has fallen in love with a woman in the same office. They are both well-educated and their interests, both professionally and otherwise, are similar. The woman, however, is about twelve years the man's senior. Can there be lasting happiness in such a match? Why is it considered a perfectly normal thing for a man to be twenty or even thirty years older than the girl but a terrible thing for a woman to marry a man younger than herself?

Answer: I think that, generally speaking, though there are exceptions even to this rule, twenty-five or thirty years is too much difference between a husband and wife, no matter which is the elder. Because that puts them in different generations and each generation has its own point of view, its habits and traditions, which make a gulf between the two that is almost impossible to span.

And that is particularly true of the present age in which during the last, even twenty, years the whole relationship of the sexes, the conventions, mode of dress, trend of thought and opinion has entirely altered, so that many things which are perfectly right and natural for the younger generation to do would be very shocking to the older generation.

As for the chances of happiness of a couple in which the wife is twelve years older or even more than depends on the age of the man. If he is a mere boy with unformed tastes, it would be pretty certain to be disastrous, and by the time he is old enough to be tired of his elderly wife and want a girl of his own age or younger. But if he is a man of, say, 30, with his tastes formed and knowing what he wants in a wife, there is no reason why the marriage should not be successful. He has found her more congenial than a young girl. He likes her sophistication and experience. They have the same ideals. And he is not likely to change.

Indeed, such a marriage is likely to be exceedingly happy, because the wife who is older than her husband is more anxious to please him than a younger one and will use more tact in managing him. Also, there are many men to whom the maternal appeals and who always need a mother more than they do a wife.

The idea that the wife should be younger is based on the old theory that women age quicker than men, but that is not true in these days when keeping young has become a cult with women.

Dear Miss Dix: My husband has been a respectable, businesslike and dignified man all of his life until now when, at the age of 50, he has completely changed. He neglects the good business he has built up, he is taking all kinds of music lessons and is the laughing stock of the neighborhood, singing at the top of his voice. He has a regular beauty parlor of his own and spends hours trying to beautify himself and grow hair on his bald head and takes all kinds of reducing tablets trying to get a boyish figure. He tries to chum with boys and girls of 16 and brags that he is in younger condition than any boy of 20 or 30. He is always quarreling with his own children and making presents to young girls. My nerves are shattered and I am too ashamed to meet my friends. Is there any cure for him?

Answer: Oh, yes. A certain cure. Time. He is just going through the age of folly that afflicts a great many other men at his time of life, and if you will be patient, he will soon get over it. It is just the last flare-up of youth, a last call to the dining car.

Dear Miss Dix: I was spanking my 9-year old daughter the other day when an "unmannerly" neighbor came into the room unannounced. She said that she was afraid that the other mothers in the neighborhood would not want their children to play with a girl who had to be punished so severely. I told her the child had done nothing very naughty, but that I believe in Solomon's motto, "Spare the rod and spoil the child." What do you think of corporal punishment?

Answer: I have often seen a peevish, fretful child who was making life a torment for everybody about it turned into a sweet and smiling little angel by a judicious use of the hairbrush, not to mention the spanking. I think when it is put in operation at the psychological moment by the humane mother.

Before a child is old enough to reason, it has to be controlled by force, but the spanking theory of appealing to a girl of 9 by other means than a beating. You should rule your children through love and respect.

There is only a short time in which they will be afraid of you, and if your hold upon them is fear, you can do nothing with them when that is gone. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Snead Holds Big Lead in Dapper Dan
Pittsburg, July 18 — (P) — Sammy Snead, the White Sulphur Springs, (W.Va.) pro, was regarded as shoo-in today to take the Dapper Dan golf tournament and pocket a $2,600 check.

Snead's three sub-par rounds in the 72-hole event have given him a five-stroke lead over Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago. The long-driving West Virginia has a 203 total for 34 holes.

Yesterday's scheduled 18-hole final was washed out and the pros, almost to a man, conceded it would take a terrific up set to keep Snead out of the top spot.

Weather permitting, there's certain to be a scramble for second and third place, second place is good for $1,800 and the next spot $1,400 of the $16,500 prize money.

Mangrum, with a 208 is a stroke ahead of two men tied for third. There're Bob Hamilton, Landover, Md., and Toby Loyons, Warren, Pa.

Five men are tied for fourth with 210. There're Dr. Cary Middlecott of Memphis, Tenn., Dick Metz, Virginia Beach Va., Herman Barron, White Plains, N. Y., Buck White, Greenwood, Miss., and Otto Greiner, Baltimore.

Funeral services for Jim Wingfield, aged Hope Negro who died, July 14, will be held at Oak Grove church at 2 p. m. Wednesday July 20.

British coal production in 1948 totaled 208 million tons — 11 million tons more than 1947 production level.

Buick Dealers to View New Special Model

Roger Clinton, local Buick dealer, goes to Memphis on July 20 to attend a preview of the new Buick Special model which will be introduced to the public next month.

Some 150 dealers from the Memphis Zone will be present at the all-day session to be held at the Peabody Hotel with the meeting being described as Buick's most important full-fledged dealer convention since before the war.

The Special is Buick's lowest priced model and is reported to be completely redesigned. It has been eagerly awaited by the industry since the former model went out of production last December.

John E. Sheehan, Zone Manager, will preside and, with his staff, will relay to dealers technical and descriptive data on the Special which they obtained during a field sales organization convention in Flint, Mich., July 11-13. Talks on films will be presented to dealers by Buick's top management, covering all phases of manufacturing, engineering, sales and merchandizing.

The wedding will take place at four o'clock Sunday afternoon, August 28 in the First Christian church.

The bride-elect graduated from Hope High school and attended the University of Ark. Mr. Dunn is a senior at the University of Arkansas, where he is a member of the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Liquor Legal in Kansas After 70 Years

Topeka, Kas., July 18 — (P) — Liquor will go on sale 1-e-g-a-l-l-y in Kansas this week.

It will mark the end of an era of colorful crusading and a multi-million-dollar bootlegging business in this long-time stronghold of prohibition.

For almost 70 years the sale of liquor has been banned in Kansas by the state constitution. And for 32 years the state bone dry law made possession of so much as a thimbleful of liquor punishable by a jail sentence.

But, last November Kansas voted 422,294 to 358,310 to repeal prohibition.

After a two months' struggle, mainly to retain local option, the legislature passed a liquor control act. It wiped the bone dry law from the statute books.

Then followed four months of feverish work to establish a control and licensing setup.

Late today, the state liquor control office will mail out licenses for up to 260 privately owned stores to retail liquor or high per cent beer. Beer of less than 3.2 per cent alcohol was legalized in 1937.

Despite the seemingly radical change for a traditionally dry state, no wild binge is in the making.

Saloons and public drinking are barred. Liquor will be sold only in packages at stores licensed solely to sell intoxicants.

Schroeder Expected to Give Gonzales Plenty of Worry

Chicago, July 18 — (P) — It's up to Ted Schroeder to give young Pancho Gonzales his come-uppance on the national tennis scene.

Gonzales yesterday captured his second straight national clay court title to go with the national championship he won at Forest Hills last year in Schroeder's absence.

Schroeder was not on hand for the week-long clay court meet at River Forest Tennis club which ended with Gonzales' four-set victory over Frankie Parker, 6-1, 3-6, 6-6, 6-3.

The feminine clay court champion also defeated Magda Runcac of Los Angeles, 6-1, 6-3, Beverly Baker of Santa Monica, Calif., 2-6, 9-7, 6-3.

In the only doubles competition, top-seeded Vic Seixas of Philadelphia and Sam Patch of Los Angeles won the men's title, defeating Gonzales and Hugh Stewart of Pasadena, Calif., 6-4, 1-6, 5-7, 8-6, 9-7.

Gonzales left today for the Eastern grass court circuit before defending his national crown in September at Forest Hills.

Schroeder, ranked No. 2 nationally, behind Gonzales and recently crowned Wimbledon champion, has indicated he will be back doing business at Forest Hills this year.

That should cause Gonzales some worry since Schroeder here and there, has beaten Pancho five times in six meetings.
